The strike committee of the transport workers met this afternoon and adopted a resolution that none of the local organisations of the general federation should return to work until grisvances are settled. They announced after the meeting that the strikers would make a monster demonstration in Trafalgar Square Sunday.

A natishal strike of the transport workers would involve 317,000 men directly if all the mambers of the allied organizations went out.

tured by the Cable Plane Company. It is to be awarded to the person submitting the second best solution to the pictures of the contest.

Many of the compettors have informed the contest editor that one of their ambittions is to be the owner of a player plane. The majority of them confess they are unable to play the ordinary type of plane, and are therefore desirous of owning one which mechanically player anything from the finest of operas to the liveliest of popular airs with the skill of an expert.

The Kingsbury player was eslected by the Persy 8. Poster Company, 1336 of Street Northwest. The player is now on display in the Foster company, 1336 of Street Northwest. The player is now on display in the Foster establishment, and contested to the instrument is cordially invited to vivit the establishment and have it demonstrated. The prizes to be awarded to the winners of the Booklaver's Contest follow:

The first prize will be a $1,000 building lot in that charming suburb, Randall Highlands. It is a good investment value from any point of view, and will be eagerly sought after by many hundreds in the contest.

A Kingsbury inner-plane player, manufactured by the Cable Plane Company and valued at $750, is the second prize.

The route through the city will be out years of the time of speed of an electric car.

Shortly after midnight this morning Lulu Moy and May Haynes, each aged dighten, scaped from a smill room on the second floor of the House of Detention after the matron had made her regular inspection at 12 o'clock.

The door being impassible, a well-aimed kick put the screen, only protection of the window, hors de combat.

Below the window lay the roof of a shed.

It was the work of but a minute for the two young wemen to let themselves down as far as possible by hanging to the window ledge with their hands. Then they dropped. So successfully was the maneuver executed that they arrived on the roof unburt, and with their jaliers none the wiser. A convenient stepladder afford-
